Yanks in Cuba Condemn U.S. Vietnam Policy

HAVANA, Aug. 30 (Reuters) —The Association of United States Citizens Living in Cuba has sent a message to North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh condemning the "unjust war" it said the U.S. was waging in Vietnam and assuring him of its solidarity.

The association's president, Lionel Martin, handed the document over yesterday to the North Vietnamese ambassador here, Nguyen Than Ha, and to Hoang Dich, son of the head of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front mission. The front is the political wing of communist-backed Vietcong.

"Living and working in Socialist Cuba, we add our voices to world-wide condemnation of North American aggression against your country.

"For us, the best patriotism is to demand the immediate end of aerial bombardments against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and the withdrawal of United States troops from South Vietnam.

"Our country, in violation of the Geneva agreements, is waging an unjust war against peaceful people."
